Providing a high-end space for pets and their owners

Aipai Pet Town is the largest high-end pet care centre in Qingdao. Guests generally come to the store to relax and visit, staying for a long time. Reducing odours and preventing the spread of bacteria and viruses is critical for the centre. This problem has been solved by using Panasonic ziaino™, which releases hypochlorous acid to inhibit both airborne and adherent bacteria, and reduce odours at the same time. As a result, customers can always enjoy clean air in a cosy environment with cute animals, which also reflects the store's high-end services. ziaino™, the excellent solution to indoor air hygiene problems, has been well received by the store owners and customers.
