Differentiation through the introduction of ziaino™

Industry competition among beauty salons is very fierce in Chengdu, and business has further deteriorated as many customers are choosing to stay home due to the COVID-19 epidemic. In order to provide better protection and services to customers, a beauty salon purchased ziaino™. During its use, not only does it inhibit airborne bacteria and viruses, not only does it also suppress the effects of adherent bacteria, continuously reducing odours and keeping the air clean. With the safety and health of customers assured, their concerns about the sanitary condition of the store are eased, and the number of customers visiting the store has increased significantly.
